

Press Release 27th October 2008

The Secret is Out

Currently celebrating its 25th year, organic tea and herb company Hambleton Herbs, has recently launched an exciting and innovative range of herbal teas.

Available to purchase via their website at Hambletonherbs.com and through independent shops throughout the country, the company was set up by Mike Brook in the Oxfordshire village of Hambleton, just outside Henley on Thames. Although no longer owned by him, the current owners still purchase nearly all their raw materials from Mike who now concentrates on sourcing and importing the finest organic ingredients.

The new tea ranges reflect the public interest in green teas and tea combinations and the changing tea drinking habits we've seen developing over the past few years,

Gone is the standard cuppa as we've known it, replaced by refreshing flavours to drink at any time of the day or night, like Chamomile and Peppermint, Lemon Grass and Ginger, Green Tea and Jasmine, Green Tea and Ginger, Rooibos and Rooibos and Liquorice, a unique Hambleton blend.

The best kept secret for those looking for a soothing, healthy and refreshing tea is finally out - and it's Hambleton - organic teas of the highest quality- too good to keep secret!

For samples, further information or a history of Hambleton contact:

Suzanne Noble @ Stunning PR, suzanne@stunningpr.com or 07957 371840/0203 355 1529

